

SURVIVORS DENOUNCE THE TITANIC OFFICERS

Star line, and Vice President Franklin, of the same steamship company, immediately after the Carpathia landed, Senator Newlands of Nevada and Senator Smith, Michigan, members of the senate investigating committee, said that the hearings would begin at the Waldorf-Astoria tomorrow. J. Bruce Ismay and the four surviving officers of the ill-fated Titanic would be closely examined as to the cause of the foundering of the big vessel.

NEW YORK, April 18.—Midnight.—Survivors of the Titanic say that both Col. Archibald Butt, military aide of President Taft, and John Jacob Astor are lost. Mrs. Andrews of Hudson, N. Y., said that the crash came at 11:35. Some got away on the boats at 12:15. They did not see the Carpathia until daylight. Mrs. Astor was saved. Many of the women who were rescued have gone insane. Mrs. Andrews said the agony in the boats when they saw the Titanic sink was something beyond the power of description.

E. Z. Taylor of Philadelphia said that Officer Ismay jumped into the third lifeboat launched, then gave up his seat to a woman with a baby. He then jumped into the next life boat launched.

NEW YORK, April 19.—United States Senator Smith of Michigan, who is chairman of the senate investigating committee, recently appointed to investigate the Titanic disaster, has summoned J. Bruce Ismay, one of the directors of the White Star line and also one of the survivors to appear before said investigating board tonight. In speaking of the investigation this morning Chairman Smith said as follows: "We are not going to use a club, but are going to get the truth."

DO YOUR ADVERTISING IN THE LOCAL PAPER

"Turn that wrapping paper the other side out," said a lady in a local store one morning last week as the clerk was putting up her purchase in a printed wrapping paper. "I don't want to be a walking advertisement to your store. I read the papers as all intelligent people ought to do, and I think in them is the place to advertise your business."

Kendall Strikes a Big Ledge In Consolidated

One of the most important strikes that has been made in Manhattan for some time is that made this week by Tom Kendall, in his lease on the ground owned by the Manhattan Consolidated. The strike means a great deal to the camp, as it proves up the course of the vein for many feet and shows that the Consolidated has one of the biggest ore bodies in the camp.

The strike was made on the 150-foot level, about 50 feet west of the end line of the property, and when the ore was broken into, it showed excellent values. As the work progressed it disclosed the fact that the ledge had a width of 14½ feet and careful sampling showed that 5 3-4 feet ran from $75 to $125, while the balance was of an excellent milling value. The find is about 800 feet from the main workings and proves the theory of the leasers that the vein is not only a continuous one, but that it is very highly mineralized.

The strike was inspected by A. T. Coffin and William Hannan, two well-known San Francisco brokers, who accompanied Messrs. Douglas, Wittenberg, Stewart, Lindsay and Boak to Manhattan and all of the gentlemen who saw the strike pronounce it to be one of the best that they have seen in many a day.

Some of the ore that has been uncovered will run up into the hundreds of dollars in value.

Mizpah Extension Strikes High Grade

That rich ore has been uncovered in the Mizpah Extension during the past week is an assured fact, and the Bonanza is in a position to state that the discovery is one which will mean considerable interest being taken by the investing public this year.

The strike was made in the east drift from the south crosscut on the 1000-foot level and from eighteen inches of ore assays have been obtained which run from $40 to over $200 to the ton. It is more than likely that the strike will show up another large body of high grade ore and the development work that is being done illustrates what can be done by careful and intelligent mining in this district.

ADMIRAL DEWEY CRITICIZES OFFICIALS OF LINERS

WASHINGTON, April 19.—"In my opinion every passenger crossing the North Atlantic takes his life in his hands with every trip," said Admiral George Dewey, in discussing the wreck of the liner Titanic. He declared the officials of the big trans-Atlantic steamship lines never consider human lives in their greed for money.

CHICAGO, April 19.—The Record-Herald prints the following:

Master and Man. (By B. Hecht.)

News Item—Bruce Ismay's name appears among those of the "women and children saved." Mr. Ismay is one of the owners of the White Star line.

The captain stood where a captain should.

For the law of the sea is grim; The owner romped ere his ship was swamped.

And no law bothered him.

The captain stood where the captain should.

When a captain's boat goes down; But the owner led when the women fled.

For an owner must not drown.

The captain sank as a man of rank.

While his owner turned away; The captain's grave was his bridge, and brave.

He earned his seaman's pay.

To hold your place in the ghastly face

Of death on the sea at night Is a seaman's job, but to flee with the mob.

Is an owner's noble right.

GREAT SUCCESS WITH BERNHARDT-REJANE PICTURES

The Bernhardt-Rejane feature picture films opened in Goldfield last night. The Western Film Exhibiting company, controlled by K. Keill of Tonopah, leased the Hippodrome and presented them.

They had a contract with Goldfield theatrical people to furnish a picture machine and produce the pictures, but arrangements were not made in time for a matinee. At the two evening shows 800 people attended, though there was an opposition show—the Elks' banquet and dance and, besides a very stormy night.

Mr. Keill is well known here and in eastern California as an engineer. He has his shyness shrouding being the possibility of an investment in those famous pictures and an opportunity to become once thoroughly familiar with the southwest, he bought four state rights and will present them at moving picture theaters in Nevada, Utah, New Mexico and Arizona. Nevada is looked solid for these plays.
